SATURDAY MORNING DEC. 21, 1807

... Christmas is Coming.

The shades of perplexity which have been clouding the countenances of anxious husbands and fathers, while striving to coatrive, amid the financial and political trials of the times, support for themselves and families, are for a season disappearing, under the inspiring auticipations of the festive season. The jubilant darkeys are looking forward to "big doins," and saving their "change" for a general jubilee. The tarkeys are fattening in darkened poultry houses, and, happily unconscious of a speedy exit from existence, are gobbling and gormandizing to their fall content ; while toys, and comfits, and tempting nicknacks are displayed upon the shelves and counters of our merchants, to attract the gaze and purses of customers, and to add to the charms of the occasion:

That our friends may enjoy, each in the so cial circle of his choice. happy requiens, undisturbed by anxious cares; that the children snay prattle and frolic more gleefully around the hearth-stone, and the young men and maidens enjoy with more than ordinary zest the innocent pastimes of youth, that the mid dle aged may look with comfort and satisfaction upon the festive scenes around, and recall their younger days; and that the hearts of age may be eenowed and freshoned, like evergreens io winter, and that all may have a MERRY CHRISTMAS, are the wishes of -THE IQUATER.

Total Distressing Accident.

On Friday morning of last week, while the child of Mr. WILLIAM STALEY in the Fork of Edisto, was playing near the stove in his house, its clothes accidently caught on fire, and although the screams of the little sufferer brought assistance at once, it was so badly burned that its death was the result. The bereaved parents have our sympathy and that of the entire commusity in this severe affliction.

We must say, in commenting upon this sub-Bect, that, altho we prefer to be without a garrison here the discipline observed by Captain ERENCH and Lieut. Long, the officers in command and their carnest efforts to use the wilitary force, under their charge, as an assissauce, and not an impediment, to the civil authorities, entitle them to the thanks of the community. 1. Reported for the Orangelung News by W. WALTON SMITH, COTTON FACTOR. The downward fordency noticed in our, last week' nst., and although there was a stronger feeling, the transactions showed no change in priezz. On Satreday, the market opened firm, with an advance of le. which was lost, however, at the close of the Jay, wing to unfavorable news from abroad. The demand in the early part of Monday was very limited, but became more generally, and while the better grades were firm, owing to their scarceness, the iewer finales were dull of sale. On Tuesday there was a good demand with an improvement of ic. on the lower grades. On Wednesday the transactions were quite limited, and buyers manifested very little lisposition to operate, the market closing at a decling of |cl - There was more demand on Thursday, and with a light offering stock, prices improved in some instances ic.
